

Southwark Schools' Learning Partnership Concert at Southwark Cathedral

We met with the eight other schools at Southwark Cathedral. It was the first time we had sung the songs together and was very exciting. I had auditioned for one of the solos earlier in the week and so I was nervous and excited. JAGS was in the second group of singers and we joined with St. Saviour's and St Olave's to sing extracts from Joseph and his Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. It was great to see all of the parents and people in the audience beaming up at us and to think that they were there just to hear us all sing together. My favourite part was probably the Gospel section, when all of the schools got on stage and sang together. The harmonies sounded amazing. All of the teachers from the schools had put loads of time and effort into teaching us the songs. I really enjoyed singing a duet with my friend Shivani Desai in the song Lean on Me. It was great fun and the audience were up on their feet clapping and singing along in the chorus. It was an amazing experience and I would definitely do it again.
