

On October 11th 2006 the Year 10 Geographers spent a day investigating river processes and the impact of people on the River Darent, Kent. The girls proudly wore their new wellies and participated with great enthusiasm.

Wet, but still smiling!

Recording velocity!

Measuring river width

Testing the new chest waders
