

TEACHER OF GEOGRAPHY

Part Time (0.5 FTE)

Required from 29 August 2024

Do you have a passion for life and learning? If so, our inspirational teaching team at JAGS is looking for a colleague to join the Geography department. Your dynamic and creative approach will help encourage and champion today's young geographers across Years 7 to 13 in this, one of the UK's leading independent schools.

With its distinctive heritage as the oldest independent girls' school in London, James Allen's Girls' School, JAGS, provides a forward-thinking and contemporary education for over 1100 girls aged 4 to 18. Located in the London borough of Southwark, JAGS has a diverse school community and is committed to inclusive recruitment and inclusion in the workplace. Our school aims, both in and out of the classroom, are clear:

To celebrate our diverse and inclusive community

To champion social awareness and sustainability

To empower courage, creativity and compassion in each student

To inspire aspirational and authentic lifelong learners and leaders

To nurture respectful, resilient and kind individuals

If this matches your educational vision, then this is the perfect time to join the Geography department, which consists of our team of 4 teachers. Geography is one of the many strengths of the school and is a popular GCSE and A level choice with our cohorts growing each year with a significant number of students applying for Geography degrees. Geography is delivered by subject specialists from Year 7 upwards with the GCSE course starting in Year 10.

At KS4 we follow the Edexcel A specification. At A Level we deliver the Edexcel specification. Our GCSE and A Level results are outstanding, as you would expect from this highly selective school. At JAGS, however, we believe there is so much more to education than simply exam results. The department believes strongly in enrichment and extension and in all our teaching we aim to build critical thinking, confidence, independence and a love of Geography.

Teamwork plays an important role within the Department: the staff love to enhance the experience of the students by sharing good practice, resources and ideas. We are looking for a well-qualified graduate to join this exceptional department who shares our vision, is passionate about Geography, and who will bring their own individuality to this warm and supportive team.

In addition, any prospective candidate must show an active commitment to the values and expectations of our school community and to the welfare of the pupils within it. The enthusiasm to assist in a strong co-curriculum is an important quality of all who work at JAGS.
