

Privacy Notice

For fundraising, development and alumnae activities.

This statement explains how the Development and Alumnae Relations (DAR) department within the School (“we” and “our”) handles and uses the personal data we collect about our alumnae, parents (of both current and former pupils), current and former staff and our past, current and future supporters (“you” and “your”). This includes donors, volunteers, participants in membership groups that we run, or attendees at events that we organise. Developing a better understanding of our alumnae and supporters allows us to keep in touch with you, in order to keep you apprised of our activities and developments, to provide services to you, and to identify ways in which you can support us, through donations or other forms of financial and non-financial support.

We are committed to protecting your personal information and being transparent about what information we hold. The following statement sets out how we specifically use your personal data for fundraising and alumnae relations purposes. Please see our separate privacy notice for details about other processing of personal data by the School.

Personal data that we hold

The DAR department has a separate database which holds information about pupils, alumnae, parents, staff, donors and other supporters. We may hold information relating to you which is collected from a number of sources. A significant proportion of the information we hold ~~on~~ ~~an~~ alumnae is that which you provide to us (for example, you may give us information by filling in forms via JAGSPost, by signing up to the JAGS Alumnae Association website, participating in events and philanthropic activities or by corresponding with us by telephone, email or otherwise). In addition, we obtain information about you (including personal data) from admissions and registry where it is relevant to our work. If you were a pupil at JAGS, some of your personal data is transferred from your pupil record on ISAMS to the School’s alumnae database.

If you have concerns or queries about any of these purposes, or how we communicate with you, please contact us using the details listed below. We will also give you details of how to unsubscribe from our mailing list in our marketing emails.

We may use automated or manual analyses to link data together to help us identify your potential for supporting the School, to provide you with an improved experience, to send you communications which are relevant and timely, to identify volunteering opportunities or opportunities for providing support which may be of interest to you, and to avoid approaching you with opportunities which are not of interest. All of this enables us to raise more funds, sooner, and more cost-effectively, in support of the School Strategic Development Plan. We always seek to ensure that any opportunities we present are aligned with your interests, based on the research we conduct.

We will always respect a request by you to stop processing your personal data (other than where we are obliged by law to process it), and in addition your statutory rights are set out below.

How we protect your data

We ensure we have appropriate data sharing agreements in place before sharing your personal data.

We do not sell your personal data to third parties under any circumstances.

We also facilitate communication between individual alumnae, but in doing so we do not release personal contact details without prior permission.

Any transfers of your data overseas (outside of the UK or the European Economic Area (the “EEA”)), for example IT systems hosted outside the UK or the EEA, are protected either by an ‘adequacy decision’ by the European Commission or adequacy regulations approved in the UK (declaring the recipient country as a ‘safe’ territory for personal data) or by standard contractual clauses adopted by the European Commission or the UK government (which give obligations for the recipient to safeguard the data). Further information about the measures we use to protect data when being transferred internationally is available from our Privacy & Compliance Officer (whose contact details are set out below).

Your rights

You have the right to:

- ❖ ask us for access to, or rectification or erasure of your data
- ❖ restrict processing (pending correction or deletion)
- ❖ object to communications or direct marketing
- ❖ ask for the transfer of your data electronically to a third party (data portability) Many of these rights are qualified in various ways.

You have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner’s Office at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>

Further information

The legal basis for processing your personal data for the purposes set out above is that it is necessary for the pursuit of our legitimate interests. In some cases, such as data relating to disability or dietary preferences for event management purposes, we are processing your personal data because you have given us your consent to do so. We always handle your personal data securely and minimise its use, and there is no overriding prejudice to you by using your personal information for these purposes. In addition, there is no statutory or contractual requirement for you to provide us with any personal data.

The controller for your personal data is the Privacy & Compliance Officer and can be contacted at justine.addison@jags.org.uk. Our Privacy & Compliance Officer is responsible for monitoring compliance with relevant legislation in relation to the protection of personal data.

Please contact the Privacy & Compliance Officer if you have any concerns or questions about the above information or you wish to ask us not to process your personal data for particular purposes. Where you have specific requests relating to how we manage your data, we will endeavour to resolve these, but please note that there may be circumstances where we cannot comply with specific requests.

We will retain your data indefinitely in support of your lifelong relationship with the School or until you request us to do otherwise. We will publish on our website any changes we make to this data protection statement and notify you by other communication channels where appropriate.

Where you exercise your right to erasure, we will continue to maintain a core set of personal data (name, subject(s), matriculation and graduation details, unique School identification number and date of birth) to ensure we do not contact you inadvertently in future, and to maintain your academic record for archive purposes. We may also need to retain some financial records about you for statutory purposes (e.g. Gift Aid, anti-fraud and accounting matters).
